

Strengthening Vulnerable Families Teleconference: The Power of Data and KIDS COUNT Data Center

Date: Thursday, March 19, 2009

Time: 2:00 to 3:00 PM EDT

(11:00 AM to 12:00 PM PDT)

AGENDA

Welcome, overview of the call, and introductions
Elisabeth Hyleck, Coordinator, the Family Funders Network

Framing the Issue - The Power of Data
Laura Beavers, Senior Associate and National KIDS COUNT Program Coordinator at the Annie E. Casey Foundation, Baltimore, MD

- About the Annie E. Casey Foundation and its dedication to data
- Overview of the KIDS COUNT project
- The power of data in advocacy, public accountability and grantmaking

Funder Strategies for Using Data - The KIDS COUNT Data Center

- What data is available and how can we access it?
- Demo of the improved KIDS COUNT Data Center and examples
- Tips for using data in your work
- Ways to get involved in this issue at an entry level

Discussion/Opportunity for Questions & Answers

Participants can ask questions in real time or email questions to ehyleck@familyfunders.org

Closing Comments

Elisabeth Hyleck